REMINDER: CircleIn - The Peer to Peer Study App

You can click here to read the full article on CircleIn and find instructions on how to download this app.

When the app is open, students can create groups and invite their peers to join, allowing them to study together. The app also provides a convenient way to upload and share files with group members.

Before using CircleIn, students can create a group and invite their peers to join. Once a group is created, students can share files and communicate with their peers.

Students may also use CircleIn to consult department websites for the most up-to-date information at all times.

It just takes a minute to download CircleIn and get started.
